

THE THEATRES NEXT WEEK.

Mr. Leslie Carter's First Appearance at the Broadway.

The Middleman at Palmer's.

The Idler at the Lyceum.

Mr. Leslie Carter will have an enormous audience at the Broadway Theatre Monday evening, when he will debut in a comedy drama, "The Ugly Duckling," suggested by Hans Christian Andersen's story and Tennyson's poem, "The Sisters." David Reynolds has personally superintended every detail of the production. The company will include Arthur Dacre, E. J. Hensley, W. H.

Thompson, H. E. Cotton, Raymond Holmes, for the Boulevard in general, Helen Barcroft, Ida Vernon and Helen Rowell.

Mr. Willard, an English actor of fame,

will make his first appearance at Palmer's

Monday night in a play called "The Middleman." Mr. Willard is only thirty-seven years old, but he has already won great success in London. "The Middleman" will be handsome, a particularly interesting scene

being laid in the fireplace-room of the pottery.

In the cast will be Charles Harbury, E. M.

Dell, Sam Matthews, E. W. Gardner, H. E.

Thompson, Percy Wright, Sidney Booth and

Mrs. J. Phillips.

The Lyceum Theatre stock company will open their winter season Tuesday night at the home theatre in a play called "The Idler," written by C. Haddon Chambers, the author of "Captain Swift." In the cast will be Herbert

Reynolds, Nelson Wheatcroft, Eugene Ormonde,

J. J. Le Moyne, Walter C. Bellows, Howard

Lawson, Miss Georgia Cavan, Miss Elmo

Lawson, Mrs. Charles Watson and Miss Henrietta Crossman.

At the Bijou Theatre Monday night a new

play by Charles H. Hoyt, entitled "A Texas

Hero," will be the attraction. It is said to be in efforts at legitimate dramatic work, and is Hoyt's most far-reaching. The production is expected to be a success. The cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and social current at Washington. The cast will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the attraction. It is a play in which the author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the attraction. It is a play in which the author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the attraction. It is a play in which the author has been very successful. The

THE TALK OF THE ATHLETES.

Straining the System in Severe

Cross-Country Racing.

One Who Would Like to See Gibbons and Myer Matched.

Mr. Willard, an English actor of fame,

will make his first appearance at Palmer's

Monday night in a play called "The Middle-

man." Mr. Willard is only thirty-seven years old, but he has already won great success

in London. "The Middleman" will be hand-

some, a particularly interesting scene

being laid in the fireplace-room of the pottery.

In the cast will be Charles Harbury, E. M.

Dell, Sam Matthews, E. W. Gardner, H. E.

Thompson, Percy Wright, Sidney Booth and

Mrs. J. Phillips.

The Lyceum Theatre stock company will

open their winter season Tuesday night at

the home theatre in a play called "The Idler,"

written by C. Haddon Chambers, the author of "Captain Swift." In the cast will be Herbert

Reynolds, Nelson Wheatcroft, Eugene Ormonde,

J. J. Le Moyne, Walter C. Bellows, Howard

Lawson, Miss Georgia Cavan, Miss Elmo

Lawson, Mrs. Charles Watson and Miss Henrietta Crossman.

At the Bijou Theatre Monday night a new

play by Charles H. Hoyt, entitled "A Texas

Hero," will be the attraction. It is said to be in efforts at legitimate dramatic work, and

is Hoyt's most far-reaching. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and

social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the

attraction. It is a play in which the

author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and

social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the

attraction. It is a play in which the

author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and

social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the

attraction. It is a play in which the

author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and

social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the

attraction. It is a play in which the

author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and

THE TALK OF THE ATHLETES.

Straining the System in Severe

Cross-Country Racing.

One Who Would Like to See Gibbons and Myer Matched.

Mr. Willard, an English actor of fame,

will make his first appearance at Palmer's

Monday night in a play called "The Middle-

man." Mr. Willard is only thirty-seven years old, but he has already won great success

in London. "The Middleman" will be hand-

some, a particularly interesting scene

being laid in the fireplace-room of the pottery.

In the cast will be Charles Harbury, E. M.

Dell, Sam Matthews, E. W. Gardner, H. E.

Thompson, Percy Wright, Sidney Booth and

Mrs. J. Phillips.

The Lyceum Theatre stock company will

open their winter season Tuesday night at

the home theatre in a play called "The Idler,"

written by C. Haddon Chambers, the author of "Captain Swift." In the cast will be Herbert

Reynolds, Nelson Wheatcroft, Eugene Ormonde,

J. J. Le Moyne, Walter C. Bellows, Howard

Lawson, Miss Georgia Cavan, Miss Elmo

Lawson, Mrs. Charles Watson and Miss Henrietta Crossman.

At the Bijou Theatre Monday night a new

play by Charles H. Hoyt, entitled "A Texas

Hero," will be the attraction. It is said to be in efforts at legitimate dramatic work, and

is Hoyt's most far-reaching. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the

attraction. It is a play in which the

author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the

attraction. It is a play in which the

author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the

attraction. It is a play in which the

author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and social current at Washington. The cast

will be headed by Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Walsh.

At the New Park Theatre "The Inspector,"

a new play by Will Clifton, will be the

attraction. It is a play in which the

author has been very successful. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and

JOKERS' BRIGHTEST SAYINGS

Straining the System in Severe

Cross-Country Racing.

One Who Would Like to See Gibbons and Myer Matched.

Mr. Willard, an English actor of fame,

will make his first appearance at Palmer's

Monday night in a play called "The Middle-

man." Mr. Willard is only thirty-seven years old, but he has already won great success

in London. "The Middleman" will be hand-

some, a particularly interesting scene

being laid in the fireplace-room of the pottery.

In the cast will be Charles Harbury, E. M.

Dell, Sam Matthews, E. W. Gardner, H. E.

Thompson, Percy Wright, Sidney Booth and

Mrs. J. Phillips.

The Lyceum Theatre stock company will

open their winter season Tuesday night at

the home theatre in a play called "The Idler,"

written by C. Haddon Chambers, the author of "Captain Swift." In the cast will be Herbert

Reynolds, Nelson Wheatcroft, Eugene Ormonde,

J. J. Le Moyne, Walter C. Bellows, Howard

Lawson, Miss Georgia Cavan, Miss Elmo

Lawson, Mrs. Charles Watson and Miss Henrietta Crossman.

At the Bijou Theatre Monday night a new

play by Charles H. Hoyt, entitled "A Texas

Hero," will be the attraction. It is said to be in efforts at legitimate dramatic work, and

is Hoyt's most far-reaching. The production is expected to be a success. The

cast is elected to Congress. The three

subsequent acts will show him in the political and